The Black Arts Projects Program supports arts projects by Black artists, Black artist collectives, and Black-led, Black-focused, and Black-serving organizations<sup>1</sup>. For the purpose of this program, “Black” refers to African descendant people across the diaspora including but not limited to African Canadian, Afro-Caribbean, Afro-Latinx, East African, West African, Southern and Central African, Afro-Arab, Afro-Indigenous, etc. This funding program is intended to support the development, continuation, and flourishing of Black arts communities.

What does this program support?

The Black Arts Projects Program provides support to individual artists, artist collectives of 2 or more Black artists working on a non-profit basis and incorporated non-profit Toronto Black arts organizations. The City of Toronto supports this program through a funding allocation approved annually by Toronto City Council.

TAC recognizes the need to respond to barriers that Black arts communities face due to anti-Black racism. The program seeks to address these barriers by providing pathways to sustainable support to Toronto’s Black-led arts organizations serving Black artists. The program is designed to increase access to, awareness of, and participation in Toronto Arts Council funding by Black artists, while amplifying the work of Black artists in the city and creating avenues for sustainable art practice.

This program is multidisciplinary and recognizes a diversity of art practice, including new and emerging art forms, culturally relevant art practices, and multi/ interdisciplinary arts projects. - To apply to the Black Arts Projects Program, applicants must identify as a Black professional artist or artist collective, or be an incorporated not-for-profit arts organization. The payment of artists' fees is a requirement of all categories in this program.
- TAC recognizes that due to systemic barriers within the broader arts community (e.g. limited mainstream presentation opportunities for artists from equity-seeking communities) that some flexibility may be required in interpreting eligibility criteria to take into account equivalent professional experience and contexts. Potential applicants from equity-seeking communities are encouraged to discuss their eligibility with the Program Manager in advance of applying.
- A professional artist is someone who has developed their skills through training and/or practice; is recognized as such by artists working in the same artistic tradition; actively practices her/his/their art; seeks payment for her/his/their work; and has a history of public presentation.
- You may not apply as an individual and an organization or collective for the same project at the same time. If you are one of the members of an applicant collective, you may also apply as an individual for an unrelated project in the same competition year.
- The project for which the funding is requested must take place in the City of Toronto
- Applicants may receive only one grant per calendar year through the Black Arts Project program, and may not also have a pending application to the Black Arts Operating program. However, applicants may still apply for different projects to arts discipline programs as well as other strategic initiatives programs that TAC offers. In this case, the applicant may receive up to one project grant in each funding stream and three project grants [3] total per calendar year. Please note: if you apply for a Black Arts project grant you cannot also apply to another TAC program for the same project. Please visit TAC's website for other granting opportunities.

The Project Description covers: Project Goal, Project Phase (if applicable), Work Plan, Outreach (if applicable), and Project Contributors.

- The Project Goal describes what you want to do and why.
- The Project Phase describes what phase of your project you are applying for
- The Work Plan describes how you will accomplish the project.
- The Outreach section gives details about the intended audience/participants and how you plan to reach them. This section is for projects that include public presentation or community participation (an answer is not required for Creation & Development projects).
- For presentation projects, access planning relates to measures taken to make the event accessible to audiences. For more information on how to create an access plan, please refer to our external resource list on accessibility in the arts

You will also have an opportunity to provide more information about the budget and budgetary breakdown.

The Support Material is an important section where you will upload Audio-visual files/links to support the assessment of your application. Applicants in all categories are encouraged to contact the Program

Manager to determine what, if any, support material is necessary. Audio-visual support material can either be uploaded to the application or made accessible through an external website where your work has already been uploaded, such as Vimeo, YouTube, personal website, etc. Do not submit material through Google drive. If it's password protected, please include the password. Keep in mind that the Peer Assessors will have a maximum of 5 minutes to watch all of your support material. Written support material, like letters of support or press clippings must be uploaded in PDF format.

Answers to application questions may be submitted in written, audio or video format. If you are uploading your answer as an audio or video file, you will need to limit the length of your video to the maximum time allotted for each answer.

Are there requirements and guidelines for paying artists?

Grant recipients are required to pay artists' fees for professional artists, and encouraged to bring these fees into line with sector standards or, at a minimum, living wage benchmarks:

- arts sector guidelines: Carfac \(visual arts\), Canadian Alliance of Dance Artists, Canadian Actors Equity – Independent Theatre Agreement, Canadian Federation of Musicians
- the Ontario Living Wage as a minimum standard for artists/arts workers' salaries and fees: Ontario Living Wage by Region

How is my application assessed?

- Grants are awarded on a competitive basis by a panel of Peer assessors are Black artists who are selected on the basis of their familiarity with a broad spectrum of arts disciplines and practices, specialized expertise, fair-mindedness, gender diversity, as well as emerging, mid-career and established artists.
- The grant review panel assesses projects in each category according to the following criteria:
  - Artistic merit
  - Contribution of the project to the development of the applicant
  - Financial viability of the project and the ability of the applicant and participants to carry out the project
  - Contribution of the project to the development of the applicant, and (for presentation projects) the Black arts community
  - Public impact, including the quality and effectiveness of the publicity, marketing, outreach and/or audience development strategies (for presentation projects)
- Project funding is recommended only at the discretion of the grant review panel. This is a competitive program. Applicants should be aware that meeting the general eligibility requirements does not guarantee that a grant will be recommended.
- Included in TAC's Equity Framework is an Equity Priority Policy, which states that if there are multiple well-assessed applications of equal merit in an adjudication round but insufficient funds in the grants budget to support all deserving candidates, applications proposed by applicants that self-identify as belonging to one or more of Toronto Arts Council's equity priority groups will be prioritized.
- Decisions of the grant review panel are final.
- Peer assessor evaluation of relative artistic merit will vary. Unsuccessful applicants may succeed with another grant review panel and are encouraged to reapply.

How and when do I find out the application results?

TAC will send you an email when the results are available, and you will log in to TAC Grants Online to receive the results.

Notification of results with the rolling deadline are issued within three to four months of your submission.

What if my project changes?

Grants may be used only for the purposes outlined in the application. Changes to the scale, activities and timeframe of the project must be reported promptly to TAC. In such cases, TAC may require full or partial repayment of the grant. Changes of project dates, contributors or partners must be communicated to your Program Manager.

What do I do when I have completed the project or portion of the project being funded?

Recipients are required to file a final report on their project. The final report is filled out and submitted online, just like the application. Reports on previous projects in this program must be submitted to TAC before you are eligible to reapply for another grant in the same program. Future applications will not be accepted unless reports on previous funding have been received and approved by TAC.
